

Anthony Frederick Blunt, Surveyor of the Queen's Pictures and Director of London's Courtauld Institute of Art, will give two lectures this week-end at The Cleveland Museum of Art. On Friday March 23 at 8:15 p.m. he will discuss POUSSIN and on Sunday March 25 at 3:45 p.m. he will discuss THE ROYAL COLLECTION.

Blunt was appointed Surveyor of the King's Pictures in 1945 and continues this activity for Queen Elizabeth. In this capacity Blunt was responsible for the post-war reinstallation and rearrangement of the pictures in the Royal Palaces, principally Buckingham Palace, Windsor Castle and Hampton Court. He also organized the Exhibition of the King's Pictures at the Royal Academy in the winter of 1946-47.

In addition to directing the Courtauld Institute, Blunt teaches History of Art at the University of London, is a fellow of the British Academy and is advisor of pictures to the National Trust. He has served on Treasury Committees to advise the British Government on the future of historic buildings and on the export of works of art. Since 1945 he has acted as general adviser to the Royal Academy on all their winter exhibitions.

For his distinguished work in organizing exhibitions Blunt has received titles from three countries: from England, Commander of the Victorian Order; from France, Officier de la Legion d'Honneur and from the Netherlands, Commander of the Order of Orange Nassau. In 1954 he was the English representative on the Council of Europe for international exhibitions of Mannerist Art and in 1955, Baroque Art.

Among his outstanding publications are ARTISTIC THEORY IN ITALY, FRANCOIS MANSART, ART AND ARCHITECTURE IN FRANCE 1500-1700 and, in collaboration with Walter Friedlaender, CATALOGUE RAISONNE OF THE DRAWINGS OF NICOLAS POUSSIN.

Both lectures are open free to the public.
